preached a forceful sermon on the timely H. Waite & Sons. subject: "The need of courage in the American Republic." In the course of the sermon he pointed out the danger signals which portend ultimate doom to the American Republic if public sentiment does not turn in the course in which we are drifting. The sermon was a study in sociology and made a special plea for civic righteousness. The pastor touched on the various phases of the great problems with which this nation has to cope, the tenement house problem of the slums, corrupt city and national governments, the White Slave and the liquor traffic, labor and capital, divorce and loose marriage laws.

The singing was especially good. The congregation large. Many men were in Chickens, Common to Good, evidence.

There was the usual attendance at the morning service and in place of the regular sermon the pastor, Rev. Mr. St. Clare, gave a New Year's Greeting, after which the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered.

In the Sunday school there was an attendance of 150 and the reports for the year showed a healthy, steady growth, the last quarter showing the greatest increase in attendance. There were several promotions.

The attendance at the Christian Endeavor meeting was large and the sub. ject, " Taking God through the year with us," was interestingly handled, Mrs. J. F. Thomas, leader.

for Thanksgiving day. An excellent rule for the meat, which, of course, must be made at least two weeks in advance, is this: Mince fine two cups of boiled beef and six apples. Add a quart and a halfsof sweet cider, a cup of current jelly, the grated rind and juice of two lemons and two oranges, two cups of sugar, one tablespoonful each of salt and cinnamon, one teaspoonful each of cloves and allspice, one-half tenspoonful of nutmeg and pepper, two pounds of seeded raisins, one pound of currants, a quarter of a pound of shredded citron, a pound of chopped suet and a cup of shredded candled orange peel. Flavor with the rich juice of spiced or pickled peaches to taste, or add vinegar bolled down to a sirup with sugar. This rule makes much richer and more spicy pies than any other and will be found delicious. -Harper's Bazar.

How to Make a Blotter.

For my lady's writing desk there are dainty blotters, formed of three or four leaves of blotting paper cut to fit a cover of thin leather on which a border design is burned. This may be either the familiar Greek border or a sample one of dots and dashes and the shape an oblong, the leaves fastened together at one end with a dainty bow of ribbon. To accompany this is a penwiper, cut in the shape of a small book, the inner leaves of chamois skin, the covers of leather, tied together with tiny bows of baby ribbon, Decorate the cover with burned work, a border and a psuedo title in dainty lettering, "Tracks From the Pen of Helen Blank."
